DECOM II Code Development

I am writing this brief note to you as a sincere expression of my gratitude to each of you for the tenaciousness and hard work which you exhibited in putting together a workable micro computer based version of the DECOM Decommissioning Cost Estimation Code. Although there were some minor difficulties associated with being able to deliver this product at the time that we wished, we ultimately did put a quality product out the door. Your dedication and efforts towards achieving this objective are to be commended. You set an example of hard work and mutual cooperation that the rest of us can look up to.

Thank you very much.
